

Oral Conversation Rubric

CRITERIA	Basic 1 point	Good 3 points	Excellent! 5 points
Content	Speaker uses little vocabulary needed to communicate. Resorts to English.	Speaker usually uses correct vocabulary and functions needed to communicate. Does not use resort to English.	Uses all vocabulary and functions correctly. Uses a variety of learned vocabulary.
Comprehension	Speaker understands little of what is said.	Speaker understands most of what is said.	Speaker understands all of what is said.
Comprehensibility	Listener understands little of what the speaker is trying to communicate.	Listener understands most of what the speaker is trying to communicate.	Listener understands all of what the speaker is trying to communicate.
Accuracy	Speaker makes many errors in language usage.	Speaker usually uses language correctly including grammar, spelling, and word order.	Speaker uses language correctly.
Fluency	Many long pause and false starts with frequent resort to English.	Frequent pauses and false starts, but thoughts expressed (in short sentences).	Few pauses or false starts and smoothly put together in a few sentences.